

Good Deeds

Four friends – Alan, Ian, Nick, and Roman – decided to do something kind for their neighbors at Christmas to help make their holiday a little brighter. Each friend visited a different neighbor (Mr. Clark, Mr. Wilson, Mr. Gardner, or Mr. Lewis) and helped with a different task.

Can you figure out who visited which neighbor and what good deed they did?

- Three different friends are: Alan, the one who washed a car, and the one who helped Mr. Wilson.
- Mr. Lewis did not need groceries, and he does not know Ian.
- Neither Alan nor Roman washed windows.
- Mr. Gardner did not need his windows washed, and Nick neither washed windows nor washed a car.
- The person who visited Mr. Wilson did not do any washing.
- Alan did not visit Mr. Gardner.
