

An Unusual Street

On an unusual street, there are eight unusual houses where eight unusual children live. They always speak in riddles.

If you asked them where they live, this is what they would say:

Ian: Hedda lives in the green house, and it is the third house away from mine.

Clea: I live in the purple house next to Paul.

Paul: I live between two girls.

Rebecca: My house is blue, just like Ian's house.

Greta: I live between the yellow house and the blue house, next to Bruce.

Nils: I have only one neighbor, and that is Ian.

Can you figure out where each child lives and write their names above the houses?
